

Democrats of Montgomery County:

On Next Saturday, August 3rd, the first State Primary will be held. Hon. C. C. Turner, of this county, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Judge of the Court of Appeals. His only opponent is a Clark county man and naturally Mr. Turner wants the unanimous endorsement of his home people. The ADVOCATE feels he is entitled to this and hopes he will receive the vote and influence of every Democrat in Montgomery county.

As every vote counts, let nothing prevent you from going to the polls at your usual voting place and urge your Democratic neighbors to do likewise. Remember the date, next Saturday, August 3rd, between the hours of 6 a. m. and 4 p. m.

LARGE CROWDS

Attend the Great Montgomery County Fair. Closed Saturday.

The Weather Was Ideal and the Show Rings Unsurpassed.

The fourth annual fair of the Montgomery County Fair Association was brought to a close in this city Saturday afternoon. The weather during the entire week was ideal, the crowds, although not as good as last year, were large, Thursday and Saturday being the banner days. The races and show rings were probably the finest that will be seen at any county fair in the State this season.

The fair, taken as a whole, was the best one ever held in this city, and too much credit cannot be given President Thompson, Secretary Hamilton, Assistant Secretary Wood and the members of the board of directors, all of whom worked unceasingly for the success of the fair.

The first day of the fair Mt. Sterling horses were returned the winners of both races. Orphan Boy, the splendid three-year-old pacer, owned by John M. Barnes, of this city, and trained and driven by Warren Bacon, of Paris, won the three-year-old pace in straight heats. Neva Todd, that consistent trotter of Jas. R. Magowan's, was returned the winner of the 2:17 trot after losing the first heat.

On Thursday the races were the most interesting ever seen in this city and again local horses triumphed. Peter McCormick, owned by Ricketts & McCormick and driven by Chas. Bean, won the 2:25 trot after Mary Brown, that fast trotter of H. L. Horine's, had won the first two heats. Peter McCormick displayed a great deal of endurance and is a colt of much promise, by that great sire Peter the Great, and is sure to be heard from later in the racing season. In the free-for-all pace Albert O., owned by P. L. Hensley, of this city, and driven by H. L. Horine, of Lexington, was returned the winner, with Ethel Grant second. Splendid time was made in this race, one heat being paced by Albert O. in 2:12½, which is within a quarter of a second of the track record. This is equal to about 2:08 on a mile track, and when going good you can always bet that Albert O. will get part of the money.

Saturday in the 2:40 trot Peter McCormick and Mary Brown again hooked up, this time Mary Brown being returned the winner, much to the disappointment of the admirers of the local horse.

The show horses were many and unsurpassed in beauty and action. Shropshire & Matlack, of Winchester, had decidedly the classiest stable on the grounds and carried off a majority of the blues. Hazel Dawn was the queen of the stable and was admired as few horses have ever been before in this city. The horses of the following gentlemen made excellent showing in their respective classes:

Collins & Redmond, McCray Bros., C. B. Dale, J. G. Johnson, Speakes Bros., Ray Moss, Arnold Hart, Bridges Bros., A. G. Jones, E. K. Thomas and Mr. Churchman.

Tom Prewitt, the popular little son of Mr. Henry R. Prewitt, held the lucky number and won the pony given away by the Fair Co.

The awards in the rings for the

FOLLOWERS OF TEDDY

Hold Mass Meeting at Court House Saturday.

Pass Resolutions and Organize For Fight in November.

The followers of the Progressive party met in mass convention at the court house at 2 p. m. pursuant to the call of the National, State and District Progressive party. After reading the call James O'Connell, temporary chairman, was elected permanent chairman, and Wallace McMahan was elected permanent secretary. A Committee on Resolutions was appointed, consisting of the following named persons: Henry C. Huffaker, David Gay, Henry Clay Rainey, George Hamilton and Dale Carter, who offered the following resolutions which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we believe the people should rule, and not be mastered by the office-holding element which now controls both the Democratic and Republican parties.

Resolved, That we condemn the self-appointed master of the office-holding element of Kentucky, W. O. Bradley, who now represents the past-masters of corruption, Lorimer, Penrose, Guggenheim, Barnes, etc., all of them fraudulent political bosses, thwarting the will of the people at the National Convention at Chicago, by unseating delegates who were duly elected by the people of the different States of the Union for the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt for President.

Whereas, That now we come to where the roads fork; the one to the right leads to where all voters who believe in the right of people to rule are situated and the left fork will lead to the dens of the corruptionists; therefore be it

Resolved, That this convention instruct its delegates to the District Convention, to be held at Ashland, Ky., on August 1st; to vote for Hon. E. S. Hitchens, of Carter county, candidate for Congress on the Progressive ticket of the 9th Congressional District of Kentucky, and also instruct for Hon. Leslie Combs for National Committeeman, all Progressives to go as delegates. And, further

Resolved, That without regard to past party affiliations, we unite our efforts and register our votes for the man who represents the HIGHEST IDEALS OF GOVERNMENT—THEODORE ROOSEVELT, for President. Signed:—

Henry C. Huffaker, David Gay, H. Clay Rainey, George Hamilton, Dale Carter.

At the same time a County Committee was elected as follows: James O'Connell, chairman, Wallace McMahan, secretary, and the following named persons compose the committee:

1st Ward, Jesse Evans; 2nd Ward, Hiram Hatton; 3rd Ward, Samuel Jones; 4th Ward, Charles B. Fizer; Hart, Joseph Pennebaker; Grassy Lick, Robert Howell; Smithville, John Gude, 15 Smith street; Aaron's Run, William B. Davis; Beans, James Burns; Camargo, George Raburn; Howards Mill, M. H. Lewis; Spencer, Dale Carter.

Committeemen for Jeffersonville, Sideview and Levee precincts will be selected later.

The meeting was enthusiastic and the leaders confidently assert Mr. Roosevelt will receive more votes in Montgomery county than Mr. Taft.

Prominent Sharpsburg Boy Killed.

Thomas Crockett, one of the most prominent young men in Sharpsburg, was instantly killed Friday afternoon when a threshing engine exploded, the cause of which is unknown. A remarkable fact in connection with the sad accident was that thirty people were nearer the threshing than Crockett and all were uninjured.

Mr. Crockett was well known in this city, where he was a frequent visitor, and had numerous friends who were grieved to learn of the sad accident.

Narrow Escape.

Mr. John English, while superintending the shingling of a house belonging to him on Harrison avenue Monday morning, fell from the roof, badly wrenching his back and bruising his body considerably. A carriage was called and he was taken to his home. Mr. English, who is quite advanced in age, has many friends who will learn of his unfortunate accident with much regret.

Brooms.

Special sale for this week. Regular 25c brooms for 18c. Only two to a customer. The Fair.

Emperor Dead.

Mutsuhito, for forty years Emperor of Japan, died at Tokio Monday. He was the 121st Emperor of Japan. He was a great and good man and did much toward the advancement of his race. He was succeeded by Prince Yoshihito.

Auto Runs Off of Bridge.

One afternoon last week at the fair grounds an automobile driven by Dr. Harness ran off of a bridge and turned turtle in the creek. Fortunately the doctor and machine both escaped without injury.

BOOSTER'S GAME TODAY

Home Team to Play Lexington Here Wednesday and Thursday.

Wednesday Designated Booster's Day--Let Everybody Attend.

Wednesday and Thursday of this week the Mt. Sterling Orphans will hook up for two games with the Lexington Colts and two good games are expected. The Orphans have not played at home for several days on account of the fair and it is hoped that a large crowd will be present to encourage the boys.

Wednesday has been designated as Booster's Day and everybody is urged to buy a booster's ticket, go to the game and pull for the home team. Several new players have been added to the team and it is now thought that Mt. Sterling has one of the best teams in the league and that with the proper encouragement and support the team will be a winning one. Those who have not contributed toward the support of the team now have the opportunity to help, and it is hoped that our citizens will show their loyalty by buying a booster's ticket. Let's all get together and pull for the home team.

Rogers' Mill Bridge Nearing Completion.

The new iron bridge at Rogers' Mill crossing, built jointly by Montgomery and Bath counties, is nearing completion. It consists of two spans, one seventy-five and the other thirty-three feet in length. A large fill is to be made on each side at once. This is a much needed improvement, since often the creek at this point is beyond fording, and we are glad to know it will soon be in active use.

Both bridges were erected by the Brackett Bridge Company of Cincinnati.

Off for the Cumberland.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Paxton, Bartlett Paxton, Tipton Wilson, J. S. Frazer and Master C. P. Killpatrick, of this city; Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Fuqua, of Versailles, and Miss Ruth Richards, of Owingsville, left Monday morning for a two weeks camping trip on the Cumberland river.

Change August 1st.

Beginning August 1st, Walsh Bros. will be known as The Walsh Co., Mr. R. P. Walsh retiring from the firm and Mr. J. J. Walsh becoming sole owner. The business will be continued along the same high class lines as heretofore, and the new company will no doubt receive and merit the large patronage enjoyed by the former partnership.

There will be an ice cream supper at Somerset church Saturday night, August 3rd. Everybody invited.

Hamlett Orders Cups In Schools.

Separate drinking cups must be used in the public schools of this State. Superintendent of Public Instruction Hamlett has notified County Superintendents, boards of education and teachers that it is their duty to rigidly enforce the separate drinking cup law passed by the last session of the General Assembly, and if the provisions of the law are not carried out the Department of Education will take the matter into the courts and have the act construed.

In taking this action Supt. Hamlett says that he does not wish to appear to be taking the opposite of Attorney General Garnett, who held that the public drinking cup act does not apply to the public schools.

Supt. Hamlett says he wants the law enforced for the good of public health and that the intention of the law was to apply to schools as well as other public places.

INNES AND HIS BAND

WILL BE AT THE BLUE GRASS FAIR IN LEXINGTON.

This Orchestral Band Has a Unique Reputation Wherever Good Music is Appreciated.

The Innes Band to be heard at the Blue Grass Fair at Lexington in August has a unique reputation throughout the whole country. No organization has a higher reputation for the rendition of the great standards in music, and the name of Innes has come to be synonymous with the best there is in the domain of high art.

The services of the band are in constant demand. In fact, its principal work being the giving of festival celebrations in the big cities of the country.

The Innes Band is the result of many years of effort, of unceasing watchfulness to secure the best musicians in the world, of constant and tedious rehearsing, of tireless effort on the part of Innes himself and by the determination of each individual member of the organization to give the best that is in him.

Each player is selected with as much care and consideration as are the several soloists who accompany the band, and every man must pass a rigid examination by Innes himself, before he is accepted as a member of the band.

Beatrice Van Loon, the soprano, who is to be heard here during the coming engagement, is one of the younger American singers, who, like Nordica, Mary Garden and Geraldine Farrar, has, by her sensational successes in opera abroad, and in Boston, established herself as one of the world's great singers. She is said to possess a voice of true dramatic brilliancy.

INNES GREAT CONDUCTOR

For twenty years Frederick Nell Innes has been spreading the gospel of music in America and his name, probably more than that of any other great conductor, is closely identified with the movement which has made Wagner known and appreciated throughout the high-ways and by-ways of this country.

Innes' Orchestral Band, which has grown and developed under Mr. Innes' leadership until it stands at the head of organizations of its character, is extending its territory this season in order to meet demands from cities which hitherto have not enjoyed musical advantages such as those nearer New York have been given. This plan is in every way consistent with Mr. Innes' work for years—to encourage and foster in America a love for the best that musical literature has to offer.

This is why the directors of the Fair selected Innes and his players as the big musical feature of the celebration. It was felt that the organization would appeal not only to the musical enthusiast but also to that great body of people who with a natural love for the beautiful are not yet ready to forswear everyone but Bach, Gluck, Beethoven and the other immortals. In addition to the sixty players of his band, Innes will bring with him several well-known soloists, notably Beatrice Van Loon, soprano, of the Chicago Grand Opera Company.

SADDLE HORSES

Will Be An Important Exhibit at Lexington This Year.

Outstanding in importance among the live stock features of the Blue Grass Fair are the two divisions of the National Saddle Horse Futurities to be contested at Lexington on Tuesday, August 13th, and Wednesday, August 14th. On Tuesday the division for foals of 1912, and on Wednesday the one for 1911 division.

This stake was inaugurated last year by the Saddle and Horse Show Chronicle, and proved to be the best and most exciting exhibition ever given in any ring at any Fair, there being 51 exhibits.

The renewal of 1911 stake for yearlings, and inaugural of 1912 Futurity under same conditions as last year are already causing widespread interest throughout the country. The approximate value of each is $1,000, to be divided among the ten best colts or fillies.

The two rings of themselves would make Tuesday and Wednesday the banner days of the Fair.

Three other stakes for saddle horses are also provided: one for $250 for five-gaited saddle horses, any age; one of $200 for five-gaited saddle horses, three years old and under; and one of $200 for three-gaited saddle horses and under. These stakes are always hotly contested and to every lover of the horse are worth going miles to see.

ENGAGEMENT EXTRAORDINARY.

The Blue Grass Fair, at Lexington, has engaged for the week, August 12 to 17, Buhler, in his sensational, death-defying act of lying on the track in front of grand stand and allowing any automobile, any size, any weight, going at full speed, with passengers, to run over his body at the rate of 15 miles an hour.

Don't fail to see Buhler, the automobile fiend, the original and only act of its kind in the world. Positively no protection used.

May Be Held At Estill Springs

Since it has been decided not to hold a reunion of Morgan's men at Parks Hill, Nicholas county, this year, a movement has been started to have the reunion at Estill Springs about the middle of August. This proposition is favorably considered by local Confederate veterans, who were greatly disappointed when the announcement was made that no meeting would be held at the regular place, where for the past ten years these veterans of the Civil War have met and counseled together, as many as 250 or 300 of the old soldiers having gathered there each year.

The managers of Estill Springs have agreed to give special hotel rates and rates have also been assured on the railroads. Therefore the veterans are hoping very much that arrangements may be completed whereby they may enjoy their annual meeting.

MANY USES FOR PEROXIDE
It is a Powerful Bleaching Agent and Also is Valuable as an Anti-septic.

One of the most powerful bleaching agents employed in various trades is peroxide of hydrogen, also known as hydrogen dioxide and oxygenated water. The natural color in ostrich plumes is removed by it and it will also bleach a great number of other things, such as bones, ivory, silver, wood, silk, cotton and hair. It can be used to restore the color to old oil paintings which have become darkened by age. Peroxide is a valuable antiseptic and will also destroy objectionable microorganisms in water. It can even be used to cure indigestion, but for this purpose, as well as for other medicinal uses, it must be diluted. A drop of pure peroxide is strong enough to raise a white blister on the skin. Minute quantities of peroxide of hydrogen are found in the air, in rain water and in snow, and it is sometimes found in the juices of certain plants. The liquid is produced on a large scale by the action of acids on peroxide of sodium. The solution may be concentrated by allowing the water to freeze out, by passing dry air through it or by evaporation in a vacuum over sulphuric acid.—San Francisco Chronicle.

LONDON AS A NERVE CURE
American Actress Says Its Cheerfulness and Unruffled Calm Are Soothing to Soul.

Laura Nelson Hall, an American actress, now playing in London in "The Easiest Way," is telling why she likes London, which she finds "so restful after New York city."

"I love London," she says, "because of its immensity, its endless inspiration, and I think chiefly because it is the most restful place I've ever struck. People who don't know American cities talk of the roar of London and its nerve-destroying riot. I smile—for I come from New York. London! Why, it's a nerve cure and a soother of the soul that ought to be recommended by every nerve specialist who knows his job. I've been here three months and I haven't seen a dog fight. This is no imputation of the courage of the British dog; it is the most eloquent tribute to the serene influence of your placid city. All your dogs look cheerful, they reflect the unruffled calm of their owners, and together they form living testimony to those sedative surroundings which have made so wonderful a change in my nervous system since I struck this favored land of beauty and quietude."

HOW SCENT IS MADE.

There are several methods of making scent. The cheap and nasty way is by mixing chemicals together to counterfeited the odor of flowers. This is how the low-priced and inferior scents are derived from the flowers themselves. The blossoms are spread on glass thickly coated with pure grease and exposed to the sun. As they wither the flowers are removed and replaced again and again by fresh ones until the grease has become charged with the fragrance. Another process is by constantly infusing flowers in oil, and a third by steeping them in ether. This last method is the most expensive of all, and produces the finest results. By the way, you may like to know that some of the best kinds of scented soaps are made from the flower-scented grease. After all the scent possible has been extracted from it by steeping it in spirits it is still fragrant enough to make toilet soap.

NOT A BOSS.

"You shouldn't call me a boss," said Mr. Wardheel.

"But you are a leader and an autocrat."

"Maybe. But a boss is a man who makes people work. My specialty is showing anybody I take an interest in how to live easy."

FITTING NAME.

"I don't know what to name my dog."

"Name him Detractor."

"What for?"

"Because the horrid little beast is a backbiter."

ITS STATUS.

"Apropos of the Turko-Italian affair, what do you think of this bottling up business?"

"I think it's a corking story."

It Looks Bad.

The disclosure that members of New York's police force have made a business of selling the law would, of itself, occasion little surprise. The disclosure that the Mayor, the Police Commissioner and the actual heads of the force lack either the disposition or the power to deal with such a situation when directly brought to their notice, both surprises and shames.

It has been over a week since Rosenthal was called to the front of the Hotel Metropole and shot down on a crowded street by a party of gun men and policemen, the police officers who witnessed the shooting making no effort to interfere or even to arrest the murderers until after it was certain that they had made good their escape.

It is a sinister, though not damning, fact that every officer who witnessed the murder gave in a wrong report as to the number of the car from which the shooting was done and in which the murderers, with no pretense at hurry, drove off when their work was done. The average patrolman is more like than not to govern his ideas of what to do and what to leave undone by the orders of his immediate superior. Granting that the officer in charge of the district had been a partner in his gambling game and wanted Rosenthal put out of the way to prevent his squealing, the blindness of the police of that district when since Rosenthal "got his," is not hard to account for. But how does it happen that the District Attorney, in his light to get at the facts, not only of Rosenthal's murder, but of the causes which led up to it, has had to play virtually a lone hand, to rely on private detectives and private subscriptions to carry on his work?

In Bad Shape.

It is not surprising that the movement on the part of Republican leaders to petition President Taft to renounce his nomination and Colonel Roosevelt to forsake his third party movement has fallen through. It was, however, a shrewd move on the part of Republican leaders to save their party from defeat and elenly demonstrates the almost hopeless situation of the party. We doubt if President Taft's withdrawal from the presidential race at this period would do much to save the situation. Putting aside that question, President Taft has not the slightest inclination to withdraw. For him to do so would be for him to admit his weakness as a candidate and his failure as a President. President Taft is fighting for his vindication, says the Houston Post, and stands upon his record as President. Neither does it seem probable that Colonel Roosevelt will retire from the field at this stage of the game. From present indications, he is going to stand put by his third party movement. While the Democratic platform puts a decided damper upon the movement, Roosevelt nevertheless is determined to organize a new party. All of this disturbance within the Republican ranks, instead of strengthening, only serves to weaken the pillars that are even now tottering over their heads.

When we get to the Land of Content some of us never stop long enough to recognize it for what it is worth.

'Phone S. E. Kelly & Co. for Fresh and Cured Meats. 12tf

Many are anxious to rise in the world, but they haven't got dynamite enough about 'em to give 'em a lift.

The Poor Parent Is Not Recovering.

The Third Party has been born and will receive its cristering in Chicago August 5. It seems to be rather a puny infant. Not as yet is it worthy of serious consideration, and nor does its father seem to be doing as well as could be expected. It seems as if its distinguished parent is not recovering quite so rapidly as his friends might wish. He seems to flounder about, evidencing a certain lack of cohesive thought that indicates that he has not recovered from the surprise of this unexpected, though long discussed babe.

There are many who do not believe the Vociferous Disciple of Purity in Politics, whose second election as President was financed to the extent of $1,900,000 by those who expected special favor really desired, much less intended, to give birth to the Third Party. It is true that he often used the threat of producing a new claimant for popular suffrage; but those who know him best feel sure that it was merely intended as a threat, and that he expected to have those who gave their allegiance to William Howard Taft desert their chief because of this dire threat on his part. But now that the Third Party has become a reality, insofar as a large number of gentlemen with vivid imaginations, strident voices, and active desire for the flesh pots of Egypt can make it a reality, it is somewhat interesting to note the radical change in public attitude toward the parent of this peevish babe.

Had Colonel Roosevelt's activities happened to be devoted to the advertising field he would have made the greatest advertising agent the world ever saw. Early in his public career he recognized the advantages of publicity, and established the rule of giving out statements on Sunday, so that they would be available for publication Monday morning, when there is such a dearth of news that any story even of modern importance will be given first position, top of column, first page, next to reading matter. Last Sunday the Colonel issued a statement that six months ago would have been flashed up on the front page of every newspaper Monday morning. This time, however, judging by some two score papers that we have glanced over, it did not find even a place on the front page of the great majority of the daily papers. Some of them so condense it that it can be found only with difficulty. In some it is given a fairly good position on the inside, not quite so good as is given to the result of the baseball games, but still indicating a belief on the part of the news editors that it comes under that heading—Important if True.

There could be no better indication of the waning importance of the sage of Oyster Bay as a factor in public affairs than this agreement of the news editors of America—that a statement issued by him is not of sufficient importance to be put on the first page Monday morning; the parent so weak and the infant so puny the prospect of a long life for the Third Party does not seem particularly encouraging.—Lexington Herald.

WHY THEY WANTED A BANK
Matter of Convenience That Led to Demand for Establishment of Financial Institution.

Harry L. Conter, chief clerk in the bank department in the office of the auditor of state, spent an hour a few days ago trying to convince a budding financier that the ordinary village in Indiana cannot support more than one bank properly, and that demands for second banks in such places could usually be traced to some purpose other than legitimate banking.

"When I was in a bank in Elkhart," he said, "I was approached one afternoon by a small merchant on the South side, who asked if our bank wouldn't consider a proposal to establish a branch in his part of the city. I told him that under the new law we were not permitted to establish branches, and asked him why he was anxious to have a bank in his neighborhood, where there were only small shops and good banks within a dozen blocks.

"We fellows down there sometimes have a lot of trouble about getting change," he replied, "and we thought if we could have a bank down there, it would be handy."—Indianapolis News.

NEW KIND OF RAILROAD HOG
He Attempts to Keep Two Seats So As to Be on Shady Side of Car.

A man who frequently uses the interurban cars out of Indianapolis reports a new kind of railroad hog.

"I boarded the car at the Denison hotel corner," he said, "and noticed there was only one seat outside the smoking compartment not occupied by some person, and it had in it a large suit case. In the aisle directly across from the suit case was a fat man who evidently did not belong to this part of the country and was unacquainted with the geography.

"I moved the suit case to the aisle and took the seat. After we had left the city and started across the country the fat man scowled at me, picked up the suit case and, going into the smoker, sat down in a vacant seat on the same side of the car where I was sitting, the shady side.

Evidently he had tried to make sure of two seats, so as to be able to select the one on the shady side after the car had started on its cross-country route, but my removal of his suit case had spoiled his plan."

ALONG CLASSIC LINES.

One of the most perfect types of classic buildings in America, according to architects, has been built by the United States government at Denver, Colo., to be used as a post-office and to house the various federal offices in that city with the exception of the mint, says Popular Mechanics. The building is of pure white marble from Colorado quarries and is 310 feet long by 180 feet deep and four stories in height. The style is a type of Roman architecture adapted to modern conditions, and the facades are regarded as notable in the faithfulness of their classic lines. On each of the longer sides there are sixteen massive columns, and on the shorter sides six columns. Symbolic statuary is used in groups and in single figures to relieve the building of the severity of its general outlines, the entire structure giving an idea of simple beauty that makes it a striking example of public building architecture.

PLEA FOR COUNTRY LIFE.

In an address on "City Congestion and Farm Desolation," the Rev. Dr. Joseph Krauskopf of Philadelphia makes a strong plea for the National Farm school, near Philadelphia, of which he is president. Pastoral pursuits, he says, are potent remedies against the evils which grow out of congestion in the parts of the cities into which foreign immigrants drift. The resources of the farm school are limited, the dormitories accommodating only eighty-five students, and for the purpose of enlarging the institution and increasing its activities Dr. Krauskopf asks all who are interested to become members.

MOUTHPIECES.

"I object to the use of dummy directors who do simply what they are told."

"Well," replied Mr. Dustin Stax, "I don't know that a dummy director is any more helpless as a personal quantity than an instructed delegate or a member of an electoral college."

THOMAS R. MARSHALL

It has been suggested that the new Progressive party be called the Roosevelt party.

OUR NEXT PROBLEM.

Now that we will soon have about a mile of brick streets in use, our next problem is how shall we keep them clean? The present hand sweeping method is thoroughly inadequate, and it seems to us arrangements should be made for an up-to-date horse sweeper. These streets will not require any repairs for years, and in view of that fact, we think the city can afford to arrange to keep them clean. In addition to being a pleasure to our citizens, the best advertisement our city can have is clean streets. The stranger within our gates always notices things of this kind.

During the past year we have often predicted that the Republican party was disintegrating, and the Bull Moose convention held here Saturday convinces us more than ever that this is true. Many former loyal Republicans enthusiastically joined in the movement, including a recently elected member of the Republican County Committee. By the way, what will the Taft machine do with him?

We are always for our home man, especially when he is as worthy and more competent than his opponent. If you share this belief, prove it by voting next Saturday for Hon. C. C. Turner, of this city, for the Democratic nomination for Judge of the Court of Appeals.

We don't blame Judge Dillon, the regular Republican nominee for Governor in Ohio, for declining the nomination. No one wants to play the leading role in the "Lamb to the Slaughter."

Mistaken.

The report has become circulated that Lexington parties would start a new picture show here this fall. This is a mistake. There were some Maysville parties here looking for a location, but after a visit to our up-to-date little play house decided that the Tabb had such a hold on its patrons that it would be useless to try and get their patronage, so they decided to locate elsewhere. We are glad of this, for with two shows in the city neither could make any money, besides the management of the Tabb have always given the best pictures obtainable and have installed every convenience for their patrons, including 20 electric fans during the summer, and deserve our citizens' patronage.

IN MEMORY.

At her home in Shelby county, on the morning of July 24th, at 4:30 o'clock, Miss Helen A. Hedden, daughter of the late Jacob and Susan F. Hedden, passed to her reward. Her death was the result of a sunstroke, the attack coming Sunday morning.

Sister Helen was born August 20th, 1850, and was therefore in the 62nd year of her age. J. W. Hedden, of this city; R. J. Hedden, Misses Kate and Sue Hedden, of Shelby county, and Mrs. E. G. Burnett, of Louisville, survive her. After services at the Salem Church she was buried in the church cemetery.

She was educated under the tutelage of the venerable Rev. B. F. Hungerford, was converted under his ministry, baptized and received into the church by him and buried by him.

Sister Helen was an instructor of rare ability, an inspiration to young men in their efforts for the highest educational attainments, many of whom hold the loftiest positions of their professions. Strong of mind, tender of heart and firm of convictions, it was her mission to redeem the lost, encourage the doubting and strengthen the weak. She lived for and with Christ and when death was near, by memory she repeated the 23rd Psalm, "The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want"—she knew the gospel, lived and taught it, and when absent from church service and work she had a cause beyond her control; and as to church life so she was to home and neighbors, faithful and true.

A woman worth so much it is hard to yield to the inevitable. But she is not dead for her works will continue after her, far more real than the rymth of song in words.

"O joys that are gone, will you ever return

To gladden our hearts as of yore?
Will we find you awaiting us, some happy morn,
When we drift to eternity's shore?
Will dear eyes meet our own, as in days that are past?
Will we thrill at the touch of the hand?
O joys that are gone, will we find you at last
On the shore of that wonderful land?"
Yes we will meet to part no more,
For Jesus, whom we trust, has gone before.

THE SICK.

Mr. Lee Trimble, who suffered an acute attack of indigestion last Wednesday, is able to be out again.

Mrs. W. C. Moore, who has been quite ill for several days past, is now getting along nicely.

Mr. T. P. Sutton has been confined to his room for the past few days.

Mr. Dick Robinson is getting along nicely and will soon be able to be out again.

Elizabeth Hall, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Reid, who has been quite sick for several days, is improving.

Miss Mary Dee Sullivan, who has been having a great deal of trouble with her eyes, is much improved.

Miss Edith William is sick at her home on North Sycamore.

HON. W. J. FIELDS.

Hon. W. J. Fields, of Olive Hill, is a candidate for re-election to Congress in the Ninth district. Mr. Fields has no Democratic opponent, but all Democrats are urged to go to the polls Saturday, August 3rd, and vote for him. He has represented the district as only a good loyal Democrat could and his record is one of which he should be proud. He deserved to have no opposition in the Democratic party, and it is hoped that his constituents will show their appreciation of his high character by again returning him to the place he has so admirably filled by an increased majority at the coming November election.

Discourage the Republican opposition by giving Mr. Fields a heavy vote at the primary election Saturday, August 3rd.

A Test of Merit

Before purchasing Life Insurance a man should carefully scrutinize every proposition submitted to him.

"But I lack the time, and am not familiar enough with the technicalities of Insurance Contracts to make an intelligent selection," says the prospective buyer.

The "Standard Measuring Rod" used by the State Mutual Life Assurance Company of Worcester, Massachusetts, is a real test of merit.

It is easily applied, it is simple, and will therefore enable you to make an intelligent selection quickly. It is a real time saver. You are welcome to its use.

A Suggestion.

Carry a smile with you as well as a calling card—it is a better introduction. Our enmities are caused by misunderstandings, and they are all melted in the sunshine of the heart. Take the chip off your shoulder and stop your still hunt for insults. Do not take the little "worries that vex and fret" too seriously. Science has recently proven that every thought we entertain does something to our body. Fear spoils digestion, anger benumbs the brain, jealousy disturbs the circulation, insincerity retards the breath, cowardice unsettles the nerves, anxiety robs sleep of its benefits, misunderstanding so upsets the action of the heart that various disorders may ensue. To the contrary, each positive, hopeful, energizing thought makes us live longer and better. Joy lubricates, despair clogs, the physical as well as the mental organism. You cannot nurse your troubles and grapple with your problems at the same time. Worry leads to chaos, but mirth scatters mental fog. The worker who enjoys his work does it twice as well.

Essay On Pants.

Pants are made for men and not for women. Women are made for men and not for pants. When a man pants for a woman and a woman pants for a man they fare a pair of pants. Such pants don't last. Pants are like molasses—they are thinner in hot weather and thicker in cold. Men are often mistaken in pants; such mistakes are breaches of promise. There has been much discussion whether pants is singular or plural. Seems to me when men wear pants it is plural, and when they don't wear pants it is singular. Men go on a tear in their pants and it is all right, but when the pants go on a tear it is all wrong. If you want to make pants last, make the coat first.—Masonic News.

IS FORGIVENESS OF NATURE

J. J. Ingalls' Beautiful Description of Grass, Which Covers the Soles Man Has Made.

Lying in the sunshine among the buttercups and the dandelions of May, scarcely higher in intelligence than the minute tenants of that mimic wilderness, our earliest recollections are of grass; and when the fitful fever is ended and the foolish wrangle of the market and forum is closed, grass heals over the scar which our descent into the bosom of the earth has made, and the carpet of the infant becomes the blanket of the dead. Grass is the forgiveness of Nature—her constant benediction. Fields trampled with battle, saturated with blood, torn with the ruts of cannon, grow green again with grass, and carnage is forgotten. Streets abandoned by traffic become grass-grown like rural lanes and are obliterated. Forests decay, harvests perish, flowers vanish, but grass is immortal. Beleaguered by the sullen hosts of winter, it withdraws into the impregnable fortress of its subterranean vitality and emerges upon the first solicitation of spring. Sown by the winds, by the wandering birds, propagated by the subtle agriculture of the elements which are its ministers and servants, it softens the rude outline of the world. It bears no blazonry of bloom to charm the senses with fragrance or splendor, but its homely hue is more enchanting than the lily or the rose. It yields no fruit in earth or air, and yet, should its harvest fail for a single year, famine would depopulate the world.—John J. Ingalls.

MUSICAL SENSE IN FLOWERS.

Remarks the London World: "A German professor has discovered that flowers possess a musical sense, and betray their individual natures by expanding their petals under the influence of certain melodies. Roses prefer old-fashioned airs; peonies, he finds, blush a deeper hue when they hear the volcanic vanities of Wagner; violets are no longer modest when serenaded by modern composers, and lilies simply close their wearied bells at the sound of the waltz. Picture to yourself the learned professor on tour round his garden with a small but select orchestra, specially engaged, making sweet music to his flower beds, anxiously watching for startling effects! I wonder, by the way, what tune would rouse a snapdragon to protest. And what terrible cataclysm would happen if Sousa's exciting compositions were played in the orchid house?"

GOOD LIGHT OPERA THEME.

A new light opera is founded on the romantic career of Baron Trenck, an Austrian soldier of fortune. Strangely enough, there are two celebrated adventurers of this name. They were cousins, both were daredevil fighters, both had prison episodes in their checkered careers, and both had tragic ends—one being a suicide, the other a victim of the French revolution. The opera celebrates the career of the elder Trenck.

Cheaper Money for Farmers.

The big objection to farm mortgages as investments is that the buyer cannot check the value of the security in any satisfactory way. He knows that the bond merchant with whom he deals often spends thousands investigating an industrial organization which wants to borrow a large sum of money on an issue of bonds—and then decides not to take the bonds. Expert accountants, engineers, and lawyers—the best men in the country in their lines—are sent to audit the concern's books, appraise its property, and examine into questions of title, leases, franchises and other legal matters. Obviously, scattered farm-mortgage loans, seldom running as high as $10,000, cannot stand the cost of any such investigation. But, taken generally, farm mortgages are good, and they pay a rate of interest about 2 per cent. higher than good bonds. On his side the farmer is overcharged for credit. One measure of relief suggested is an adoption of the Landschaften Association of Germany, which make loans to their farmer members at rates which vary from 3 to 4½ per cent., plus an annual charge for ultimate repayment of one-eighth of 1 per cent. and one-tenth of 1 per cent. to meet administration cost. In the United States similar associations of farmers can be organized which will guarantee the repayment of loans made to members. If 200 farmers, needing to borrow money and living fairly close together, should meet and work out some plain rules as to the amount and character of loans made, then the banker could safely recommend this form of security to investors.

It would be discovered that A owns 120 acres of land in a fair state of cultivation, with a clear title. That farm has a market value of $7,000. Let A borrow on it not more than $3,000. Let him understand that the cost of the loan is just what the resident of a prosperous city (through the city's elected officials) has to pay for money to fix the streets, put in waterworks, or get better lights. Give him a long time in which to repay the loan, requiring a small payment on the principal at each interest date. Impress upon him that money ought not to be borrowed unless it can be used to increase the value and productive capacity of the farm—permanently. These details would be looked after by the association. Every six months the association would find out how much money was needed to meet all legitimate demands for loans to members. Then bonds to that amount would be issued and sent to the banker. Promptly the banker would buy the issue and begin to sell them to investors. No form of security is intrinsically sounder than farm lands. As farming methods are bettered in this country this security will become sounder. There is no logical reason why a Pennsylvania farmer should pay 5½ per cent. for money when the citizens of Lancaster or Pittsburgh or Philadelphia can borrow money for 3.95 per cent. Nor for the farmer of Kansas to pay 8 per cent. when Topeka school district bonds are selling on a 4 per cent. basis. All that is needed is the organization of farm borrowers into some responsible body.—Collier's Weekly.

HIS ESCAPE FROM PRISON

Prince Krapotkin's Release in Russia Was Ingeniously Conceived and Carried Out.

In originality of conception and ingenuity of execution, the escape of Prince Krapotkin from the prison of the Nikolaievsk Military hospital in St. Petersburg in 1876 probably is unparalleled in prison annals. Twelve conspirators outside the prison took part in it, but not one of them was ever arrested or suspected, although many of them were subsequently banished to Siberia for other political offenses.

The escape was made in broad daylight, about five o'clock in the afternoon, in the presence of three armed soldiers, and with such novel accessories as cherries, opera hats, a louse, music, a black mare and a microscope. The chances were at least ten to one that it would fail, notwithstanding the extraordinary ingenuity with which it was planned, but every device and stratagem worked perfectly, and the liberated prisoner dined that night in Donon's restaurant, the most fashionable in St. Petersburg, while the entire police of the capital were ransacking the city in search of him.

Nobody even imagined that he would be shrewd and bold enough to take his dinner in so public a place, and not a single detective looked for him there, although search was made in scores of other places, and every exit from the city was so carefully guarded that a mouse could hardly have crept through unobserved.—George Kennan, in Century Magazine.

DEFINITION OF A BLIZZARD.

Every scholar was wearing his best clothes, and every face was beaming brightly. And the teacher's eyes watched grimly lest one small slip should spoil the record of her class, for it was the annual inspection, and the fierce looking man who called himself inspector was putting the pupils through their paces. "Now, boys," he called, "I want you to tell me what is a blizzard." Silence reigned. "What is a blizzard?" demanded the ferocious one. And still silence reigned. The teacher glanced at the top boy, then nodded to encourage him, and at last there came a look of pleading in her eyes. Almost she wept. Slowly the top boy's hand went up. "Yes?" snapped the inspector. "Go on. Tell me what is a blizzard?" "P-please, sir," stammered the youthful encyclopedia, "it's the inside of a hen!"

THE TASK AT HAND.

The late Clara Barton, head of the American Red Cross, was a Christian in perhaps the best sense—the practical and unselfish sense. Miss Barton, in an interview in New York about the tenement-house laws, once said to a reporter: "I'd neglect church, I'd neglect religion, to get our vile and unwholesome slums all swept away." She paused, then added: "We ought not to consider the mansions awaiting us on the other side of Jordan, you know, while there's an unsolved housing problem so near home."

HE CAN'T SAY IT.

Biggs—I see that a lot of convicts in a state penitentiary have struck because they don't like the food.
Diggs—Yes, and it's awfully hard on the warden.
"What is?"
"Why, the fact that he can't say to the kisser: 'If you don't like the food, get out!'"

Bread Making.

Good bread can result only when the ingredients used are fresh and pure. Housekeepers should buy a brand of flour that has been analyzed and that they know is up to the standard.

Good flour should be sweet to the sense of taste and smell, having a feeling of sharpness to the grain and should be cream white in color.

The amount of flower used in making bread depends upon the absorptive properties of the flour. No absolute law can be given for the amount of water or milk necessary in mixing bread. If the dough is made too stiff, however, the bread will not rise fast and will be heavy, whereas too much water causes rapid rising and makes the batter so thin that it cannot hold the gas bubbles. The most satisfactory method of making bread is to measure sugar, salt, yeast and lard or butter to a given amount of liquid and add flour enough to make a soft dough.

To mix bread scald the milk, add sugar and salt, and when the milk cools to 98 degrees F. add yeast dissolved in cold water. Add flour gradually while stirring to avoid lumping. When the bread is sufficiently stiff to knead, place it on a board and work. All shortening should be added after the first ten minutes of kneading. The theory of long and vigorous kneading is, first, that it mixes ingredients thoroughly; second, that it supplies oxygen which in a harmless way bleaches the bread. By thoroughly kneading bread we get: first, a white and light bread; second, bread with fine texture. The trouble with a great deal of kneading is that it is not vigorous enough or long enough.

The temperature during rising is very important. By making the bread with lukewarm water or milk, it is started at a temperature of about 60 degrees. Yeast works best at a temperature of from 75 to 95 degrees F. For keeping that temperature uniform, the following plan gives good results. A pie pan is inverted in a deeper pan half filled with water at a temperature of 90 degrees F. or near body heat. On this inverted pie pan the bowl containing the sponge for bread is placed. This whole arrangement is then placed on an inverted pan on the back part of the stove where the temperature will be about 90 degrees F. By having so much space to pass through before it reaches the water the heat radiates to such a degree that the water is not raised more than two degrees in the two and one-half or three hours required for the first rising. In this manner, bread may be set in a very cold room and still have heat enough to make it rise. If you have a fireless cooker, a better arrangement may be made than the one given above. By placing water at 90 degrees around the bread in the fireless cooker, a uniform temperature may be retained.

The baking of bread is one of the most important features in the making of it. A loaf of bread of ordinary size should remain in the oven 50 minutes. The temperature of the oven should not exceed 360 degrees F. That temperature would brown a piece of paper in from 7 to 10 minutes. At this temperature the bread will bake evenly and thoroughly.

Very little is generally known about regulating the heat in the oven, because so few women use the thermometer. The best dough in the world may turn out to be abominable bread if improperly baked. By using a thermometer and regulating the heat in the oven, the results are sure to be good. I can not urge too strongly the adopting by housekeepers of the cooking thermometer.

Suggested receipt for bread: 1 cup milk, 1 cup water, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon lard, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 to 6 cups flour, 1 cup yeast, ½ cup cold water. This receipt will make four good-sized loaves of bread.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

use too little light bread. It is by far the most easily digested form of bread. It is more economical and requires less labor in the long run than any of the quick breads made with flour.

If more light bread were made in the house, more of it would be served in the daily menu and we would be much more healthy than we are from eating so much hot bread.

Go West Now.

Officials of the Reclamation Service are now at work on the problem of getting settlers to take up the farms which have been reclaimed from the desert by irrigation. In league with colonization agents of the Western railroads, they are trying to attract young men from the Eastern cities. Any delay in getting settlers on a completed project means that further work by the Government in putting through other irrigation projects will be delayed. The money available for further work must come from the payment by individuals of the cost of completed projects. Here is an investment opportunity for the young man. He can write to the Reclamation Bureau at Washington for facts. What he is told by the bureau he may rely on. A great body of information, based upon years of actual experience, is there. Also, railroads are telling the truth about opportunities in the West. No city wants to keep the man who can do well on a farm; no city can pay him as well as the land will pay him. Few of us in cities are tied there by vested interests; the average young American's capital is his brains. Routine work in organized business is being taken care of by machines and underpaid clerks; the paying jobs are won by those who show special aptitude. At this time no form of enterprise calling for the investment of small capital will yield better profits than the cultivation of land, if brains are used. Go West, or South, or to Canada, if you will. This is the time to "get in on the ground floor." There are scores of hands held out to help the ambitious and the thrifty. Within ten years land values may rise as much as they did in the decade from 1900 to 1910. They doubled in that period. Farming is going to become an organized, scientific business. You can't have too much education or brain capacity for it.—Collier's.
